Visitation House is a nurturing and safe transitional Catholic home for ten pregnant and parenting women in crisis, regardless of their religious affiliation. The women, among the most vulnerable in Worcester's inner city, struggle with incomes below the poverty line, homelessness and abuse. Visitation House provides the peace and shelter of living in a Catholic home where the culture of life is respected and nurtured. Residents pursue educational, volunteer, or work opportunities, participate in community activities and attend job and life skills training classes taught at the home in the evenings. Visitation House also offers emotional, psychological and spiritual counseling to its residents. The home's Bridge Program assists the women with transitioning into permanent housing and healthy independent living. To learn more about Visitation House, visit www.visitationhouse.org.

Volunteer opportunities include assisting with office work, babysitting, helping with maintenance projects, shopping and planning menus.
